

Sara M. Eddy

Associate

seddy@bdlaw.com

+1.415.262.4012

333 Bush Street, Suite 1500, San Francisco, CA, 94104

Sara advises clients on regulatory compliance and products counseling.

She assists with matters including hazardous waste, e-waste, and ESG laws. Sara also advises on product compliance issues at various levels. She has counseled clients in environmental permitting and project development at the state and federal levels. She understands California's extensive environmental legal landscape and major federal statutes. Additionally, Sara provides health and safety regulatory guidance to clients under both state and federal law.

Sara has helped counsel clients in complex regulatory compliance and enforcement matters and drafted detailed legal memoranda on novel regulatory issues. She is also a litigator, having represented both the plaintiffs and defense in litigation, including defending numerous Proposition 65 claims.

Sara maintains an active pro bono practice, focused on immigration.

While in law school, Sara was a graduate student teacher for environmental law and was a research assistant for Professor Karrigan Bork.

Education

- University of California - Davis (J.D., 2022)
 - Researcher, American Whitewater by Prof. Karrigan Bork
 - Executive Editor, Environs
 - Organizer/Volunteer, Name and Gender Change Clinic
- California Polytechnic State University (B.S., 2018)
 - Student author, California Assembly Bill 2385

Bar Admissions

- California

Publications

January 29, 2025

Outlook for Trump Administration Environment, Energy, and Natural Resource Regulation, Enforcement & Litigation

Beveridge & Diamond

January 16, 2025

Environmental Developments to Watch in California in 2025

Beveridge & Diamond